A Answer To Our Call

As we all know. The space hulk arrived here days ago and was hit by a asteroid. Before it was hit by the asteroid we placed a call out to holy terra.

That call was answered. Inquisitor Coles has arrived on our mining world and met with our Planetary Governor. The Imperial Guard battalion has taken up positions in the city and out wards.

We were also informed that more ships are in route to our planet. The PDF forces have been placed in the control of the Inquisitors officers. A few old regulations have been put back into place while they are here so all citizens we have to bring all identifying pieces.

The Inquisitor has also placed us under martial law until he and his crews are done.

Open WAR on our planet.

Reports are coming in from all over the planet. Approximately 18 armies, have landed on our planet, moon and one has taken the space station. They have already taken positions on our planet and fought each other. From what sources can tell most of them are imperial armies.

It's a mix of both Imperial Guard, Members of the Space Marines, a Ork horde, Tau, and Dark Eldar. According to a eye witness who was shot by the Inquisitor 2 Chaos Legions have landed. Witnesses say that a Battle broke out between Imperial Forces and Chapters of the Space Marines.

One battle that broke out in the south was a battle between Orks and Imperial Guard. That battle lasted for 5 days without end but was won by the Orks as they moved on.

2 Space Wolf companies fought and took victory, 1 in a fight with Tau and the other with the Grey Knights, both battles lasted 4 days.

Another battle was between Blood Angels taking on the Dark Eldar. The Dark Eldar took the win and moved on. That battle lasted 13 hours.

Last Battle reported was with Space Marines against space marines. Its unknown which chapter took the win but either way it was failure for both.

Unknown for any Chaos as anyone who even mentioned them is killed before word can get out.

Space Wolves defeat Tau

The battle was a dark start. The wolves started with a quick jab at the right flank and came up the middle hard against the Tau. The Tau shooting all they could to slow the wolves with some prevail. The wolves continued to advance on the Tau even, slaughtered them as they ran up the field. Tau did all they could to hold back the wolves, even going into hand to hand combat, but with the wolves advancing, nothing could stop them. The Tau Warlord went into Combat with the Wolf Lord and was taken down. The wolves took the field for themselves and collected trophy's. The Wolf Lord went back, to collect his trophy, the head of the Tau Leader, I'm guessing. He was gone.

I myself witnessed Tau Path finder's came back to get their leader so he could fight another day. I witnessed this battle myself. It lasted days. I sat there and watched as both sides killed each other. I will continue to follow the wolves as it's easier to follow them with the mess they leave. Somewhere along the line someone will find the Tau.

Orks defeat Imperial Guard

I heard reports of the Ork and Imperial Guard battle but was not in the area to witness it myself. I went to the field and could see that a major engagement has in fact had taken place. I found some members of the Imperial Guard who fought in the battle and was told the Orks were to many and they took it all.

When myself and a small team of Guards men went back to the battle field Orks could be seen taking tanks apart and fitting them for future purposes.

A closer inspection was needed and I wish I chose to go back after all. A Orkmek was playing with this weird little box and got it to open. The Warboss took it from it and was blasted across the room. He got up laughing and seemed different. He told the Orkmek to move and with his mind he disappeared and reappeared across the road. A psychic Ork. This is not good. We left in a hurry to report what we found.

Stay clear of the Orks for their leader can now read your mind

Iron Warriors defeat Space Marines

An eye witness who shall remain nameless for their own protection, has sent in a letter to us on a report of Iron Warriors legion in battle with a Space Marine Chapter. The letter reads that forces engage each other right away. The Forces of Chaos destroyed 2 large assaulting tanks and terminators. While the back lash of Space Marines killed of members of the traitor legion. Both warlords where seen at the relic unable to defeat the other in combat. In the end Chaos chased off the Space Marines. Taking the field.

Dark Eldar defeat Blood Angels

A reporter was in the right place for a change, so I thought until, the Battle erupted.

Near a northern settlement of Karrik. The Dark Eldar, Strike quickly at the Blood Angels and killing innocent bystanders.

The Blood Angels were not fast enough to regroup as many of them were poisoned. The Liberian and scouts were quickly taken out while a Captain and his crew took the fight the Dark Eldar, killing Wracks but then be brought down by a pain engine. The fight only lasted 13 hours but the devastation that was left.

When the battle was over the Blood Angels warlord was nowhere to be seen. It seems that he was collected by his forces to bring the fight another day but for now he needed attention,

The Dark Eldar opened a Web Portal and left the area taking with a odd device that I have never seen

Caption describing picture or graphic.

Space Wolves defeat Grey Knights

Eye witnesses today reported to the PDF that a battle between Space Wolves and Grey Knights, had started. By the time the PDF arrived it was over and the Grey Knights had lost.

The Warlord of the Grey Knights had suffered wounds and was taken out by his own mind while the Space Wolves Warlord was not seen anywhere.

The Wolves took the field as they are right now going through the dead taking items and laughing at the dead. A ceremony will take place later for the wolves to Morkai to let there brothers through to the next world.

This is not the first time Wolves and Grey Knights have met in battle. There was the Months Of Shame where the Space Wolves and the Grey Knights fought each other. Both sides had heavy losses and no one won that war. If either the Inquisition, or the current Great Wolf find out about this it may start

another War Of Shame

Iron Knights seen

The Chapter of the Iron knights were seen on the Planet they have not moved and are still looking in one of the site areas for their first find. Unknown at this time why they are here but only time will tell.

Suspicious Army seen in the Mountains

A report came in of a suspicious group lurking in the High Mountains of Karrick. No one has been up there since the geological team over 60 years ago. But people are reporting heavy vehicles and smoke coming from the mountain tops. No one for sure but something dark is up in those mountains

Imperial Guard defeat Death Specters

Late at night, a battle between the Imperial Guard and the Space Marine chapter Death Spectres took place.

The Imperial Guard lacking any heavy tanks were able to defeat the spectres with heavy lascannon fire and quick wits. The Death Spectres walked into a very well planned defence and were unable to advance against the enemy. The Imperial Guard took the map and seized their prize.

The Guard were later seen having a celebration. The PDF tried to keep the streets clean of the happy, drunk Guard but it was hard as they are out numbered.

There Warlord was not available for comment but he tells his junior officers that all is going well and we are to expect more victories like this.
