DIVISIONS

Snotty Pentfold—Fractured Leg

With a massive increase in teams, the league decided to go with 4 divisions, so I was wondering why the divisions were named the way they were.

I've dug around the commissioners office to get some answers, and all I could find were what were possible chicken bones, or halving I am not entirely sure, how ever a plate of Goblin Nacho's goes along way, the secretary was able to give me the following.

The Black Knight Division was created last season out of respect for the league and grounds keeper Jay Mason-Grant. He's founded the league and continues to support them.

The White Knight Division was created by Commissioner Awesome in season two as a way of getting under Jay's skin. Apparently there is a long standing feud between these two.

Green Knight Division was created based of the fabled Bretonnian Knight who roamed the woods, it turns out that this could have been called the rookies' division.

Last but not least, the Red Knight division, was chosen because they wanted to keep a theme, other than that there is no real reason why they chose it.

So there is the history of the division names. Some say it's genius this writer feel like he wasted a lot of time and effort to find out his nonsense.

We're Back and Bloody

It has been a long wait, but we're back and with more teams than any season prior. The numbers are in and the league has grown to 36 teams.

The growth can be credited to Commissioner Awesome incremental plan. He and his office have worked hard to find any team with that is brave enough to join. When asked about the success he had this to say "Of course I am successful, I am Awesome, if you weren't aware it's in my name." The league grew by 63% in just over 2 month. Of this the BKBBL has seen 15 of the 22 teams returning.

This year has seen some rules changed to increase the competitive edge of the league, some of the rules that have changed are; Bounties, Bribes and Player Numbers. Instead of a two conference system the league has gone to four division system, each division housing nine teams. Only 4 teams from each division will make the playoff this season, so every game will count. Bounties will be a big part of our game, however a player can not have a bounty larger than he is worth applied

"Of Course I am Successful, I am Awesome" Commissioner Awesome

to him. With these changes Commissioner Awesome feels the league will continue to grow.

Last year we saw an increase of 500k gold in revenues we expect to surpass that amount by mid season. We've secured T.V deals with TSN, SN and CBC sports said Commissioner Awesome. The teams also stand to make a ton of money, as we have brought in over 30 sponsors that are looking forward to having their brands showcased on the pitch.

This could lead to potentially 100k to the teams treasury should they win every game. A major incentive for teams to get their players into matching uniforms.

Who will take the prize this year, will be the Hurdlers with a three-peat or will WWF finally prove they're the best.

Gobo had da chance to listen to a new pod cast, he learn'd da game of blood bowl real well from deez guys. Pitch Invasion is two really cool guys to listen to and da had lotz of good advices on da game. To be truth full Gobo thought dis was a video of teams getting beat up on da pitch, but turns out listen is fun. So listen to Pitch invasion on iTunes. Now dat's over I can get my shinny copper to place on dis years games. I couldn't wait to get back to the da green, ma's wantz me to bring in da shinny's. So look for me on da side lines dis year!

RACE DOMINATION!

We've seen an even mix of races in BKBBL, but now there is a flux of races joining the ranks. With the success of the Necromantic teams, 3 more have joined the ranks each one more violent than the last. But it doesn't stop there, we went from 1 orc team to 4, and that doesn't include the Greenskin Smackers, who have decided to sit this season while their coach tries to make hero's out of a rag tag group of goblins.

The league still houses 1 Slaan, 1 Vampire it now adds a single Undead team to the ranks.

4 is the magic number when it comes to both the Dwarven race and the Lizardmen, who have added to their ranks. The real question is what race will prove to be dominate during season 4, this reporter will continue to follow these races and report to, the fans the on going war for the most Dominating Race.

MIDAS' GOLDEN GAME

Man is it good to back from my trip to Lustria. Although I am going to ask you the readers to gamble a little more this season. Well a lot more, now that Commissioner Awesome has dug his claws into my profit. Anyways, If you're ever going to trust me and bet on a sure thing, this is the one time. In Week 2 WWF will face off against the rookies, All Pro's

"Toss" Patriots, this is the second game for the Patriots who seem to have piggy backed their name of the successful New Ulthuan Patriots. Their coach will have his hands full when he faces off against the WWF.

WWF is coming off a disappointing season where they let down and entire nation of Hulk-a-maniacs by loosing in the for them to game of the has told me score will be playoffs. Look win their second season. If history anything the final 3-1 WWF.

Another game to watch is from the Red Knight Division, The New Ulthuan Patriots will face Body Count. This is one of those games where the Patriots will win 4-1 but loose 2 journeyman and two actual lineman. Expect the Body Count to tally 5 casualties and a lucky touch down, with what will be their second loss.

BLACK KNIGHT DIVISION

This year the Black Knight Division has it all, two runner ups and a rookie champion. Heading up the division are the Chargers, who are expected to go 7-1-1 on the season.

With a strong showing in the rookie tournament the Graveyard shift are predicted to finish the year 5-3-1, The Explosion won last years rookie tour-namment and are expected to finish 4-2-3 and possibly miss the playoffs. The impressive Brute Squad haven't missed the playoffs in three season and you can expect them to make it again this year with a 6-2-1 record.

Returning from a war with the green skins, the Thunderbearers can be expected to make a splash in the division look for them to go 5-2-2. Da Bone Lootaz will cause a lot of injuries but finish with 2-2-5 record. The Stampederers are known as the most violent team in the league, they will end with a 3-3-3 record. Smack My Pitch up will have a rough ride and finish with a 2-4-3 while the Street rats are expect to finish with 0-3-6 record being the true rookies in this division.

WHITE KNIGHT DIVISION

The White Knight division logo

With the Return of the Hurdlers after their second championship, the White

Knight division will be a tough nut to crack. With the Fangs and Hushut's Hammers returning the division has a nice compliment of veterans.

Looking down the list of teams, we have a plethora of rookies filling in the division. The Goblin Kings are the only goblin team and are expected to be beat down in this tough division. Rancid Wood will add some flare in the division being one of three wood elf teams in the league, Don Mortis are looking to add to the ranks of the dead, as they come in as the only Undead team. Rounding out the division are the Black Bayou Bombardiers a lizardman team that believes they can win a championship for the race.

Masters of the Universe add to the ranks of Necromantic teams in the league, their coach is a little off so expect them to finish just out of the playoff picture. Last but not least First Round Draught a drunk dwarven team will compliment the rest of the division.

GREEN KNIGHT DIVISION

The Green Knight Division, is just that, it has three experienced teams, WWF, Avalorn Angels and The Infernal Scorpions. It was said that the WWF coach, collaborated with both the Scorpions and the Angels, to rig the lottery draft. As these three teams know they couldn't make the playoff in any other division. So come draft day the division was picked by a plant, who drew Kermit's Krew, the Slaughterhorns, All Pros "Toss" Patriots Zanzibarboxes, The Drunk and Disorderly and Colt-Blooded. When asked about these teams, the WWF had this to say "They're here to make us look good, once they learn their roles, the easier it will be for them to accept who's the best." We were able to catch up with the Angels coach who said "Colt-Blooded are not rookies, but they don't know how to play hence making them a rookie team". The Commissioner had no comments as to the corruption.

RED KNIGHT DIVISION

This division houses a mix of bad teams and good ones, The Patriots are the clear favorites to finish first in their division. The Rookie sensation from last season Hamilton Tiger-Rats, are expected to finish third behind the Hammer's Hero's. Pulling up the reins into the fourth spot will be Karak Brew Masters a rookie dwarf team who should great promise in the Exhibition season. Although we can't count out the two orc teams who may gang up on the division. Both Da Big Green and A History O'Violense could turn some heads and bust some skulls.

Drop Dead Gorgeous is expected to do what the do best, and win the odd game doing it, while the most disappointing team in the division is Body Count, last Nuffle helped Body Count make the playoffs, this year we believe they will secure the last place in the division. The one team we like in this division is the Crepuscular Cloacus or something like that.

O B I T U A R I E S

Master-At-Arms - Masters of the Universe: Played a single game in the regular season before dyeing to a Skink, we are still trying to get the tape to see how this is possible.

Buzz Off - Masters of the Universe: Also Played a single game, he died to a Skink, in the 2 years that we have been publishing the Fractured Leg has never seen a Skink get a legitimate kill!

Roudy Roddy Pipper - WWF: We Want Funerals: was on the team for 191 days. WWF's name asked for it and The Drunk and Disorderly provided it. Roudy's funeral was never had as they just resurrected his body.

Qati'zodo - Huatl Hurdlers: Played for the Hurdlers for 139 days, died to Don Mortis' Little Vince as his skull was knocked from his head.... No funeral will be had.

Qati'zodo - Don Mortis: Was resurrected by the team Necromancer, he stepped on the field and his good friend Mati'hari made sure he was dead for good.

Richard Karstark - Don Mortis: Was formally on the Winterfell Direwolves, it was said he was resurrected by a white walker, these reports were incorrect. Either way Mati'hari "the Zombie Slayer" put an end to his life.

Artemis - Drop Dead Gorgeous: This young lady was raised to be a star, unfortunately her second life was cut shorter than her first life. She knew how to work both on and off the field.

Blood Bowl No Joke!

Blood Bowl was deemed the lowest of all sports, until a study was done by UCEF, that showed that an average of twenty five thousand fans attend blood bowl games. An Exhibition game between the Tiger-Rats and Cloacs saw forty-four thousands fans attend, this has grab the attention of some major sponsors.

League officials told the Fractured leg that they have had inquiries from over thirty brands, that were hoping to sponsor some of the leagues best and worst teams.

John Gotrich VP of Kill-ogs was quoted on Global News

Saying "Blood Bowl pulls better audiences then most sports broadcasts could ever hope for"

When we called the VP to ask him if he was a sponsor in the league his response was simple and to the point "Yes!" once we dug a little deeper we found that he was the first sponsor to jump on board, with their brand Khorne Flakes. They wanted to reach out to the kids of Khone so the obvious choice was made by the marking team to plaster their brand on the Khorne Stampede. Kill-ogs corporation is expected to spend over 30K for this sponsorship.

They were not the last marking team to jump on this growing sport, 7 Elven, Chanelf, Mc Murty, Dodge and Skinka Kola have all joined teams in the leagues.

"It bring in revenue to the teams, and the league, while building a profile for the brands, what more can you ask for?" Said Commissioner Awesome when asked about branding in the league. You can expect to see more sponsors jump on board, of this cash cow. Through out the year.
